Ratification Meeting.

At an informal meeting of the republican central committee of this county, it was resolved to hold a ratification meeting in Rock county after the Chicago nominations. Invitations will be given to prominent members of that convention to be present as speakers. The meeting will probably be held on Saturday, the 19th inst. A more particular announcement will be made before the meeting, and in season to give general notice throughout this section of the state.

The News from Charleston.

The complexion of things at Charleston is not looking well for Douglas. There had been twelve ballots in the regular convention, and Douglas lacked over fifty votes to secure a nomination; but he gained but the second demanded no more of the north than was stipulated in the contract, and the succeeding delegates have to decide on that ground.

Mr. Holden, of South Carolina, saw nothing to warrant southern delegates from sealing. The remainder of the Georgia delegation demanded the right to cast the full state vote on the question of adjournment.

The President decided that they were not entitled to do so. An appeal was taken and the decision was sustained.

Georgia then withdrew altogether.

Adjourned till 5 P. M.

No movement will be made by the southern convention until the nomination is made by the other section.

Mr. Yancey advises prudence in every step.

A large number of the southern delegates left last night and this morning, feeling no further interest in the proceedings of the southern opposition convention.

Georgia will recommend Sam Houston to the boilers convention.

10 o'clock A. M.

The remaining delegates from Arkansas, Mr. Flourney had succeeded, and the Kentucky and Virginia delegations have retired to consult.

WASHINGTON, May 1.

At a meeting of the National Constitutional Union Convention last night, it was resolved that the whig and American national committees be invited to meet with that committee at Baltimore, simultaneous with the meeting of the nominating convention, on the 5th of May.

CHARLESTON, May 1.

The lower and north galleries were literally crowded with ladies, and the south and west galleries were mated with spectators.

The president's table was loaded with bouquets. The seats of succeeding delegates were filled with South Carolina ladies. The Georgia, Virginia and North Carolina delegations were in their seats. The convention was called to order at half past 10. Prayer for union and harmony was offered by Rev. Mr. Ingersoll.

Mr. Richardson of Illinois, inquired what was the business in order. The president stated that three separate motions to reconsider the platform resolutions were pending at the time of adjournment yesterday, and that Mr. Merritt of Illinois, was entitled to support the nominee.

Resolved, that the resolution be referred to a mass meeting, under no legal control, except such as governs riotous assemblies generally, cost about $5,000. The successful insertion of the clause in the tax levy giving $80,000 to the commissioners of record, subject to judicial decision, cost the friends of that measure, it is said, about $10,000, and a hard battle, protracted to the last hour of the session.

So much for the bills that have become laws. Among those not passed, we have, first, the one cent ferry bill, to defit which $8,000 were spent; and it would have cost a good deal more for the mismanagement of an agent on the other side. Although he went to Albany furnished with $20,000 to carry it through, he attempted to drive so hard a bargain, in order, as was suspected, to pocket all that he saved, that finally the enemies of the bill were able to defeat it for the smaller sum of $8,000. The railroads had to spend about $20,000 to defeat the Railroad Toll and Pro Rate bills in the senate. The sanitary bill was lost thro' similar influences. The New York amendment, against which the aldermen directed all their strength, because it deprived them of their patronage, was kept back by an outlay of $25,000, and so forth and so on.

Some of the more prominent persons in these proceedings have gone to Clarendon; while others are waiting to go to Clarendon.

We shall now see whether New York will investigate and expose to the world, by name, her legislative scoundrels, who have sold their votes. Wisconsin has been vilified and slandered by the eastern papers on account of the La Crosse bribery, and especially because the succeeding legislature exposed the swindlers. Let New York do likewise, and it will be seen that all the honesty does not dwell east of the lakes.

ROLLING WHEAT LAND.—We have heard the statement from several farmers that the land sown to wheat this spring and immediately rolled, has suffered more than any other from the effects of the dry weather and the high winds. It seems that in these fields, the roller having pulverized the earth very finely on the top, the soil has blown off, and in some instances left the wheat uncovered, while in others it has carried a large portion of it out of the field. The earth is as dry as can be several inches below the surface, and is blown into ridges in many cases, where the roller has been used. On the other hand, we understand that in those fields where no roller has been, but rained, and the wheat has come up. This appears to sustain the opinion that the early use of the roller upon wheat fields, on our light prairie soils, is injurious. But this does not prove that it may not be useful after the wheat is somewhat grown. As some have lost or injured their wheat and oats this spring, by rolling the land, it would be well if some of those who have had experience in this matter would give facts and opinions on the subject to the public.

FARM MORTGAGES.—The Madison Argus estimates the number of mortgages of farms to railroad companies in the state at 4,500—the average of the mortgages at $1,200, and the total amount $5,550,000—more it thinks rather than less. Cases involving the validity of these mortgages have been argued before the supreme court, and are awaiting its decision. Of course a decision is looked for with the utmost interest, for nothing of equal importance has ever been before the court.

There was a pleasant thaw to-day.

this as an amendment of the south, together with the resolution that two-thirds of the vote of the whole electoral college shall be required for nominating. The southern wing now in session at South Carolina Hall, are waiting anxiously for our decision. They have perfected an organization and resolve to await developments to-day.

Mr. Russell of Virginia, presented the results of consultation. They endorse the course taken by Tennessee, and if resolutions presented by the Tennessee delegation are not adopted, he is not authorized to cast the vote of the state on any subject.

Mr. Colwell of Kentucky, endorsed the ground taken by Tennessee and Virginia. They would act together. They wanted an endorsement of the Dred Scott decision and an agreement that the nominee shall receive no less than the 202 votes which are requisite for the nomination. He moved to adjourn till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Mr. Morris demanded that the vote on the resolution fixing the time for balloting be now taken. Several motions to adjourn caused much confusion, and on the motion to adjourn, the vote was demanded by states.

Mr. Gittings of Maryland, gave notice if the convention did not take a recess he would move to adjourn sine die. On taking the vote, the Georgia delegation voted the full vote of the state; objected to, and after debate the president declared they were not entitled to a vote in this convention. Holden appeared from the decision contending that they were carrying out the instructions of the state, while the bolters were not. The latter were sent here to vote and not bolt and they were not present. It was no fault of those who remained.

A vote of states was demanded. The result was: yes 148; noes 160. The nine remaining Georgia delegates then left declaring that the convention had disfranchised a sovereign state. The motion to adjourn till five o'clock was renewed and carried.

The following are the Tennessee resolutions:

Resolved, That all citizens of the United States have equal rights to settle with their property in the territories of the United States, and that under the decision of the supreme court, which we recognize as a correct exposition of constitutional liberty; the rights of neither person or property can be destroyed by congressional or territorial legislation.

Resolved, That two-thirds of all the electoral vote of the United States shall be required for the nomination.

The convention reassembled at 5 P. M.

The vote was taken on ordering the previous question on the proposition to proceed to ballot for President. Adopted—yes 148, noes 103.

The resolution offered by Tennessee, requiring that the present convention shall not declare any one nominated for President or Vice-President, unless he shall have received 202 votes or more, was called up.

Mr. Richardson of Illinois, moved to lay it on the table. Lost—yes 144, noes 141.

Mr. Stuart raised the point that the resolution must be on the table one day before being acted on, as it made a change in the rules of the convention.

The President decided the resolution is order.

Mr. Stuart appealed and the chair was sustained—yes 144, noes 108.

This vote is regarded as fatal to Douglas.

Mr. Stuart moved an amendment that all who vote for the nomination shall be bound to support the nominee.

Resolved out of order.

CHARLESTON, May 1.

The southern convention merely organized by electing Mr. Bayard of Delaware, president, and then adjourned until noon to-morrow.

Tribune Special Correspondence.—The whole arrangement yesterday astonished the knowing ones. Sunday night Mr. Slidell and his managers gave assurances through Mr. Cochrane to the New York delegation that if the programme of adopting the Cincinnati platform, voting down the other resolutions of the minority, and then producing the nomination, was carried out, all would be well and the convention saved; but Mr. Slidell and his managers, who have mainly produced the original discord, could not control the elements. They promised Alabama to go with her if she seceded, but labored to prevent the secession, and with what effect has been seen. The southern members were also assured on Sunday night that the Douglas vote would not exceed 143, counting New York, unless they adopted him, and it was urged that they should remain in the convention as the means of controlling the nomination. They knew that New York was ready to take the lead in the compact between the north and south after passing the Kansas bill. Ask for our party or our lives, said he, and we are ready to lay them down, but do not make a demand on our manhood or our honor.

Mr. Montgomery of Pennsylvania was opposed to these speeches on either side.

From early manhood he had been in the front ranks of those who had been foremost of the extremest section of the state's right school; yet he was here after a majority of his associates had retired; he had been induced to remain here in the hope that the cup of conciliation may not dash to the earth. Whilst he was with those who retired, in sentiment, he had chosen to remain and make an effort for peace and union. There was no division of sentiment at the south and there never had been any division, except as to a question of time. The south is in earnest. He could see in this division and destruction of the democratic party a rifle that would sweep to a wave and carry to the presidential chair the arch fiend of black republicanism. Eight other delegates remained in the convention. Arkansas then presented their protest.

Mr. Irving of Tennessee, asked leave for delegation to retire for the purpose of consulting with some of the retiring delegates of the south. A portion of the Maryland delegation asked leave to retire for the time of adjournment yesterday, and that Mr. Merritt of Illinois, was entitled to support the nominee.

Mr. Merritt of Illinois, moved to lay it on the table.

Mr. Stuart raised the point that the resolution must be on the table one day before being acted on, as it made a change in the rules of the convention.

The same writer then goes on to speak of Cardinal Hughes, as the future Pope—not of Rome—but of the Romish Church.

He says: "In making Archbishop Hughes a Cardinal, the Pope is actuated by motives that lie deep in his bosom.

PROGRESSIVE REPORTER.—A portion of to-day's telegraph preceding the following in the convention was not received until after my extra was issued. That portion is inserted in its proper place, and those who read the extra will, by a perusal of the whole report, get some additional items.

A NEW BROWN.—The work of excavation was commenced today on a new three story brick block on Main street, between Bates and the Rock County Bank corner. It is to be built by J. L. R. Pease, 11x100 feet, and is designed for stores and offices. This is a good view of the steady growth of Janesville.

ANIMAL EXTRADITION.—We learn that the good people of quiet and peaceful living neighborhoods on Academy street were thrown into a flutter of excitement Monday morning, in consequence of a small infant safely wrapped in a basket having been left at the door of one of their neighbors during the night. The lady whose proximities it was to open her door in the morning and take the little stranger in, was so completely ignorant of what should be the proper treatment of such little wayfarers, that she immediately summoned her lady neighbors in council. Sir John Franklin, or Clark McInott from the war, could not have been a greater honor for the home. It was related that he had been heard to call for actual time before the hour of midnight, that his possible mate had called down from the wind or of a Bachelor ledger a shower of indians, howdjas and boas. Fortunately by all the intuitions aimed at the supposed candidate to hit the object of such persevering asards.

At the conclusion of the meetings of the neighborhood, though it was declared by a dead, sweet little heap of innocence, it was unanimously voted that they were unable to discover in any human resemblance in all their mights and whims. It was therefore given over to the tender care of more experienced hands, to await the developments of further events, as we understand that a vigilant search is being made to discover the whereabouts of its mother.

Harmon Drug Store, May 1, 1860.
Editor of the Advertiser.—Our attention was this morning called to an extra from your office, headed "Carmen's Negative Give won't hold the [Charleston] Platform."

We were no less surprised at this announcement in your columns, disdaining at the brazen assumption of fact contained in the statement. It is a libel on the good name of the state, to say it would not hold. Carmen's negative has never been faithfully applied to that platform; indeed, gentlemen, we are of opinion that a bottle could not have been within forty miles of Charleston, or the enigma detailed in that extra would not have happened.

The well known fidelity of Carmen's negative to hold things together generally, and the safe opinion, a few days since expressed by an honorable democratic friend that "the only salvation for said platform would be to pacify a string of bottles of negative into Charleston," precludes the idea that it had ever been applied. We hope to prove the value of the negative glue on platforms at Chicago this month.

We will stake our reputation on its operation in that trial.

Very respectfully,

The Rockford News has been suspended. It was a spicy sheet and we regret its discontinuance.

DISAPPOINTED, in Cowcows.—We were not a little grieved at the consolation offered to northern delegations by Mr. Avery of North Carolina in the Charleston convention. LOVE INSURANCE.—Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

Thus while duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "imperious," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the offices, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, Pres't.
A. W. KELLOGG, Sec'y.

By Messrs. Pixley & Harlow, produce dealers, and Capt. Geo. S. Dodge will receive applications for insurance in this home company, and will also be happy to give information as to the condition thereof, to any one desirous of being informed, in Janesville.

A NEW BROWN.—The work of excavation was commenced today on a new three story brick block on Main street, between Bates and the Rock County Bank corner.

It is to be built by J. L. R. Pease, 11x100 feet, and is designed for stores and offices. This is a good view of the steady growth of Janesville.

ANIMAL EXTRADITION.—We learn that the good people of quiet and peaceful living neighborhoods on Academy street were thrown into a flutter of excitement Monday morning, in consequence of a small infant safely wrapped in a basket having been left at the door of one of their neighbors during the night. The lady whose proximities it was to open her door in the morning and take the little stranger in, was so completely ignorant of what should be the proper treatment of such little wayfarers, that she immediately summoned her lady neighbors in council. Sir John Franklin, or Clark McInott from the war, could not have been a greater honor for the home. It was related that he had been heard to call for actual time before the hour of midnight, that his possible mate had called down from the wind or of a Bachelor ledger a shower of indians, howdjas and boas. Fortunately by all the intuitions aimed at the supposed candidate to hit the object of such persevering asards.

At the conclusion of the meetings of the neighborhood, though it was declared by a dead, sweet little heap of innocence, it was unanimously voted that they were unable to discover in any human resemblance in all their mights and whims. It was therefore given over to the tender care of more experienced hands, to await the developments of further events, as we understand that a vigilant search is being made to discover the whereabouts of its mother.

Milwaukee Market.

Today Afternoon, May 1. The wheat market was comparatively quiet to-day, the seller reported on "Change not exceeding in the aggregate 12,000 bushels." The advances in prices, which the seller by the North grain gave rise to yesterday morning, was lost to-day, the foreign news not producing any apparent improvement in the New York market, contrary to general expectation. The closing sales were at 131 for No. 1 in store, 130 for milling, and the transactions were but little to the immediate wants of buyers.—Scammon.

Chicago Market.

To day Evening, May 1. Wheat opened flat, but closed weak and low. Lower, also, rather limited of 14 bushels for No. 2 spring, and 125 for No. 3 spring, in store. Wheat was quoted but firmly held, and about 100 bushels were sold at 135.50 for No. 1, 130 for spring, etc. Oats quiet, 80¢ and forty five. Hides were in great demand, 150-160.

TELEGRAPHIC REPORT.—A portion of to day's telegraph preceding the balloting in the convention was not received until after our extra was issued. That portion is inserted in its proper place, and those who read the extra will, by a perusal of the whole report, get some additional items.

A NEW BLOCK.—The work of excavation was commenced to-day on a new three story brick block on Main street, between Bates block and the Rock County Bank corner. It is to be built by J. J. E. Pease, 44x100 feet, and is designed for stores and offices. This is a good sign of the steady growth of Janesville.

ARRIVAL EXTRAORDINARY.—We learn that the good people of quiet and peaceful neighborhood on Academy street, were thrown into a flutter of excitement Monday morning, in consequence of a small infant snugly wrapped in a basket having been left at the door of one of their neighbors during the night. The lady whose province it seems was to open her door in the morning and take the little stranger in, was so completely ignorant of what should be the proper treatment of such little wayfarers, that she immediately summoned her lady neighbors in council. Sir John Franklin, or Claud Melnot from the war, could not have been a greater hero for the hour. It was related that he had been heard to call for admittance before the hour of midnight; that his pug-like noise had called down from the window of a bachelor lodger a shower of inkstands, bootjacks and boots. Fortunately all the missiles aimed at the supposed cat failed to hit the object of such persevering assault.

After the consultation of the matrons of the neighborhood, though it was declared to be a dear, sweet little heap of innocence, it was unanimously voted that they were unable to discover in it any kinship resemblance in all their neighborhood. It was therefore given over to the tender care of more experienced hands, to await the developments of further events, as we understand that a vigilant search is being made to discover the whereabouts of its mother.

EDINBURGH DRUG STORE, May 1, 1860.

EDITORS of the Gazette.—Our attention was this morning called to an extra from your office, headed "Carman's Negative Glue" wot hold the [Charleston] Platform."

We were no less surprised at this announcement in your columns, than in indignation at the brazen assumption of fact contained in the statement. It is a libel on the good name of the glue, to say it would not hold. Carman's negative has never been faithfully applied to that platform; indeed, gentlemen, we are of opinion that a bottle could not have been within forty miles of Charleston, or the calamity detailed in that extra would not have happened.

The well known ability of Carman's negative to hold things together generally, and the safe opinion, a few days since expressed by an honorable democratic friend that "the only salvation for said platform would be in speedily getting a bottle of the negative into Charleston," precludes the idea that it had been ever applied. We hope to prove the value of the negative glue on platforms at Chicago this month.

We will stake our reputation on its operations in that trial.

Very respectfully,
TALLMAN & COLLINS.

THE Rockford News has been suspended. It was a spicy sheet and we regret its discontinuance.

DOUGHFACES, BE COMFORTED.—We were not a little amused at the consolation offered to northern democrats by Mr. Avery of North Carolina in the Charleston convention. "We sympathise with you," said Mr. A., "when you are called doughfaces at the north, and we ask you to give us the evidence that our sympathy is well placed?"—Our northern doughfaces ought to be thankful for this sympathy and be contented with it. They have earned it, by becoming willing tools with which to hunt runaway slaves; by slandering and abusing the free state men of Kansas; by their apologies for slavery and their ready acquiescence in the slave holding opinions of the supreme court; by their denial of the declaration of independence that all men are of right free and equal; by their anxiety to extend the institution of slavery over all the territories of the country, and by the repeal of the Missouri compromise. In view of this we do not think it was quite fair in Mr. Avery to ask the northern doughfaces to give further evidence that the sympathy of the south is well placed. Mr. Avery asks too much, if he expects more than this. But then, with all his askings, he patronises the doughfaces with his lordly "sympathy."

THE New York Herald says that the project of running two democratic candidates for the presidency is the result of deliberation. It says that the plan is deemed safer than to run Douglass alone on a platform which could not be constructed so as to please both north and south. Mr. Davis will have a platform to suit the south, and Douglass one to suit the north.

THE California senate has passed the Trans Continental Telegraph bill, giving a bonus of $60,000 to the company building a telegraph first, and $10,000 for a second line, provided both are completed to the Mississippi within 18 months. The bill will probably become a law.

THE gold receipts at San Francisco for the quarter ending with March, were $10,830,000. The mines are yielding sure returns of labor.
